"For I will restore health to you, and your wounds I will heal, says the Lord. (Jer. 30, 17)

If we first turn our hurts and sorrows over to God with a contrite and willing heart, He Can Heal Brokenness. His grace will carry you onto triumph. Give THANKS.

God Can Heal Brokenness

You cannot change what you don't acknowledge or confront. When we are broken of spirit, the wounds of the past can overwhelm us and cause us pain and suffering, but God can heal our brokenness. He can't do this, however, if we don't first turn our hurts and sorrows over to Him.

There is nothing God hasn't heard before, nothing He hasn't seen. You can shed your tears and bring your heart aches to Him and He will heal your broken heart and wounded spirit. He understands your tears and will give you the grace to not only carry on, but to triumph, all you have to do is turn to him with a contrite and willing heart. Ask God today to be the glue that binds the broken pieces of your shattered soul back together.
